The Crossing by Gary Paulsen is told in the eyes of a Mexican street kid, Manny Bustos. The story follows Manny on his journey to cross to America. In the beginning, each chapter is a different point of view of two people, Manny, an orphan, and a sergeant named Robert Lurke. As the story goes on, the two point of views alternate.

In my opinion, The Crossing by Gary Paulsen was a very interesting book that really showed the true conflict between the two main characters. The author makes you feel sympathy for the children struggling to survive on their own in Mexico. Manny Bustos is a 14 year old orphan boy who was abandoned from his parents at such a young age.

The Crossing, like many of Paulsen's novels for young adults, pairs a teenage protagonist with an older adult. The chance meeting of Manny Bustos and Sergeant Robert S. Locke in the border town of Juarez, Mexico, changes both lives in ways dramatic and not immediately predictable.

~~The Crossing - BookRags.com~~

As does much of Paulsen's fiction for young adults, The Crossing features a young, male protagonist who forms an unlikely bond with an adult male deeply and adversely affected by war. Highlighting their interdependence, this relationship finally helps both characters to be physically or emotionally free.
